Profile

Intrax Consulting Group (Intrax) is a national, multi-disciplinary professional services firm delivering optimised, on-time solutions across multiple market sectors. Our ambition is to inspire our clients to create and grow, and we are passionate about contributing to our communities. As an end-to-end service provider, Intrax offers expertise in structural, civil, mechanical, electrical and hydraulic engineering, as well as surveying, geotechnical services, environmental sustainability design (ESD) and forensic and remedial consulting.

Founded in 2003, Intrax has grown rapidly into mid to large engineering consultancy, employing over 300 professionals across Australia and another 200 in Asia. At Intrax, our expertise spans various sectors within the built environment, including housing, commercial, retail, government and community projects, education, infrastructure and land development.

Intrax is the largest provider of engineering and professional services to the volume housing market in Australia and is accredited with ISO 9001, ISO 45001 and NATA certifications.
